Who Should Attend?

India offers $500 billion plus markets and opportunities in Supply Chain sector! This one-day global business forum is designed to be intensive and specific for business decision-makers, strategic business planners, export, marketing and operations managers, top professionals, legal practitioners, consultants, and academics with a special interest in India's Supply Chain and the business impacts of its continuing growth and globalization. We suggest sending a team of executives to the Forum because pursuing international markets affects the entire company.

Forum's Major Emphases:

- Identifying market opportunities in India for U.S.-based firms in various promising sectors;
- Where, when, and how to build your India market;
- Market entry and joint venture strategies;
- Overcoming regulatory and cultural obstacles; and

Plus! - Candid Industry and Business Case Panels with experienced executives
